

Story Time Lady

In a far, far away place, in pretend land, inside your child's imagination... there lived an animated Story Teller, named Miss Danielle, The Story Time Lady. She enchanted all her listeners, from the children she reads to, to the parents who accompany them. A born storyteller, her enthusiasm, high energy, and animated personality brings magic into every child's heart. As she reads each book, she gives so much life to the characters, they actually jump off the page, mesmerizing and pulling the kids into the stories that they are listening to. Danielle has a huge heart, making a big impact on each and every child she encounters. She awakens imagination by the fluctuation in her tone and her special zest for life that she shares with each child.

The participation and involvement promoted throughout Story Time, draws out the children's unique curiosity and social development. Danielle enjoys sharing stories offering life lessons that are engaging, educational, and particularly relevant to children in today's times. She chooses age appropriate books for kids aged 1-7, promoting learning and development by repeated information and instruction for improved comprehension. This involvement reinforces learning and makes it packed full of fun!!

Danielle Tiano also sings songs and dances with the children. This movement encourages and engages the children, capturing their quick and rapid attention span. "Getting your kids excited about books is one of the greatest gifts you can give them." Tiano says. She believes that kids listening to stories at a young age supports long-term vocabulary development throughout their life time. She stresses the importance of accepting each child and celebrating their unique talents and distinct ways, making each and every child feel special. Danielle's voice has the ability to evoke encouragement and comfort even in children as young as a one year old.

Danielle believes that if you nurture a love of reading early on, it boosts brainpower and offers a lifetime of rewards. From the moment your children listen to her, they revel in their instant discovery of how magical books can be. As they grow up, they will continue to associate books with excitement and enlightenment from the memory of Danielle's exceptional and distinctive way of story telling. Numerous parents have told her that their kids often tell them at bed time, " Mom, you need to read it to me like Miss Danielle reads at Story Time, she makes it so much fun."
